MEDIATORS FACE GRAVE ISSUE IN THE NIAGARA FALLS CONFERENCE

ever, to look upon recent developments optimistically.

Whether mediation would come to naught in case the South American envoys should determine the scope of the conference, so as to include representatives of the Mexican revolutionaries, was the uppermost subject of discussion throughout the day in Washington.

May Adhere to Protocol Plan.

Many held to the belief that the original proposal for a protocol to be signed by the United States and Huerta's representatives would be adhered to, and that the United States would then await developments, hoping that influence could be brought to bear which would result in a reorganization of the government and a fair trial in Mexico with friendly participation by Constitutional leaders after the United States and Huerta had settled their differences. Others were inclined to the view that the Constitutionalists would proceed with increased vigor to overthrow the Huerta regime, capture the government at Mexico City and then protest that there was nothing to mediate.

That the American government is refusing to issue clear-cut orders to ships laden with ammunition for any Mexican port, was disclosed today. The bureau of navigation, it was declared, refused all such clearances, but this does not actually prevent the shipments of ammunition from American sources to Mexico.

Arms Being Shipped.

Some vessels, it is reported, already have shipped with arms from New York and other ports, consigned to island ports, and some to ports in various Central American countries. These shipments are later released for Mexican ports. Some ammunition for the Constitutionalists' forces, it is reported, has been forwarded in this manner.

Administration officials have uniformly declined to make any definite statement as to the policy regarding the admission of arms into Mexico, but there is ground for the belief that under pressure from foreign governments, there soon may be some authoritative pronouncement on the subject.

Germany May Protest.

Regarding General Funston's leaving today upon the German liner Ypiranga and Bavaria for irregularity in landing their cargoes of munitions of war, Secretary Garrison said there might be an appeal by the German government. Action on the appeal, if brought, would be taken by the secretary of state and not the secretary of war, Mr. Garrison added.

Other charges of war material are common, understood to be approaching the Mexican coast, some from Japan on the Pacific side, and it is rumored that a consignment of arms from Birmingham, England, soon would be on its way to Mexico. "So far all of these charges are destined for the Huerta government, though it is understood that already extensive shipments of such material is beginning in the West Indian islands for the benefit of the Constitutionalists, to be landed at Tampico and Matamoros."

General Funston's Report.

With relation to the lines against the German steamers, a dispatch from General Funston today announced that he simply executed his orders to enforce the Mexican law in imposing the fines. The earnest contention on the subject is that the arms and ammunition on the two liners were originally ordered from Germany and France by the Huerta government; that the German government recognized General Huerta as the lawful successor to Madero, and consequently Huerta was the proper consignor.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, today called on Secretary Bryan to induce the secretary to ease his protesting instructions to enforce the Mexican law in imposing the fines.

CHINESE IN U. S. RAISING FUNDS FOR A REVOLUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—"We will overthrow Yuan Shi Kai, the dictator, and despot of China within two years," said T. P. Hsieh today who is in San Francisco collecting funds to finance a Chinese revolution with the object of placing Dr. Sun Yat Sen in the presidential chair. Hsieh's real name is Tan Yag Pak.

"I already have the Chinese army on my side," he said. "We will make Dr. Sun Yat Sen president."

ditors for decision. The Mexican press have indicated their willingness to abide by the will of the three diplomats. The latter take the view that their original conditions must be complied with before any invitation to Carranza can be renewed. They would like to see Carranza a party to the negotiations, but believe if he does not enter, they will be able nevertheless to approximate Constitutional objectives and keep their interests in mind in the reestablishment of a new government.

Upon the developments of the next few days depend the trend of the peace program. Should the Constitutionalists remain obdurate, and refuse to meet the terms fixed by the mediators, the negotiations here will not be disrupted on that account, for the United States, it is known, will not insist to such a degree as would appear what has already been accomplished toward obtaining a change of administration in Mexico.

ARMY MANEUVERS ARE HELD IN MOUNTAINS

TRINIDAD, Colo., June 1.—On the summit of a peak, 7,500 feet above sea level, 15 miles northwest of this city, overlooking more than 15 of the active mining properties of the district, a group of Eleventh United States cavalry, in command of Captain Shelley, today defended the position against three troops in command of Captain McKinley, in military maneuvers, that is, in warfare. The maneuvers are under the direction of Major C. C. Campbell.

Before daylight, this morning, the troops under Captain Shelley moved out of camp to take up the position on the hill. The other detachments moved up different canyons and this afternoon sought to drive the Shelley forces off the hill.

Not one shot was fired and the maneuvers were arranged merely to familiarize the troops here with the topographical condition of the country and to exercise the men on strike duty. Maneuvers similar to this are taking place twice a week.

DR. FARRAND INAUGURATED AS PRESIDENT OF STATE UNIVERSITY AT BOULDER

BOULDER, Colo., June 1.—Dr. Livingston Farrand was formally inaugurated president of the State University of Colorado today. Governor Ammons and other state officials, representatives of 12 colleges and universities, throughout the United States, students and several hundred graduates and patrons of the institution attended.

The processionals marched from the president's residence in four divisions to the new Mackay auditorium where the ceremonies were held. Dr. Farrand's address dealt with educational and social problems. The new president, formerly was a member of the faculty of Columbia university in New York; executive secretary of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis and treasurer of the American Public Health association.

MADE NOSE FROM BREASTBONE

From the London Telegraph.

Berlin.—At a recent sitting of the surgical association, professor von Marburg described a new method of providing with noses those who have either lost or never had them. He does not, of course, pretend that the artificial organs have aesthetic perceptions, but they at least offend none.

The professor first used the cartilage of the nose of the ear as a prop for the new nose, but this did not prove quite satisfactory. Eventually he found what he wanted in a thin fragment of sternum and of two ribs attached to it. With this he formed a sort of scaffolding, or framework, on which the flesh of the artificial nose was supported. The breast bone portion supplied a bridge and the sliding wall between the two nostrils, while the wings of the nose were held up by the rib attachments. Up to the present this strange rhinoplasty operation has been a complete success.

TEXAS CATTLE MEN FORM VIGILANCE SQUAD

SAN ANTONIO, June 1.—Claiming that more than 800 head of cattle have been driven from their ranches into Mexico in the past year, cattle men along the Rio Grande have organized the Texas Protective association and announced today that they will supply 40 guards to aid the border county sheriffs.

REBELS WILL REJECT A B C PEACE PLAN

and the statements of the press as absolutely ignoring this situation. The peace commission even goes so far as to propose that the Constitutionalists must recognize whatever provisional government they decide to set up, and to decide that they must be forced to recognize that government, or be crushed.

Who Shall Dictate?

The Constitutionalists leaders are wondering how they are to be forced to do this, in view of their present accomplishments, and by whom they are to be crushed if they decline to obey the commission. Calmly, too, the commission proposes that Huerta shall be permitted to be a candidate for the presidency in order to merely save his face. Do they think the Constitutionalists will consent to that any more than they will consent to recognize a provisional government constituted as the commission proposes, of one person selected by Huerta, one by themselves, and one, perhaps, but not at all likely, by the Constitutionalists?

"No one," the Constitutionalists leaders point out, who has had any acquaintance with the objects and purposes of their movement, would fancy for a single moment that they would ever consent that they would have anything whatever to do with anyone friendly to, or heretofore connected with, Huerta. The Constitutionalists make it plain beyond question that they recognize a government established under the plan of Guadalupe at the triumph of the revolution.

Guadalupe Plan.

"According to this plan, the commander-in-chief of the Constitutionalists army will be the provisional president of the Mexican government, and the elections are being certified and constitutional order is being restored to the country."

They point out the fact that conquerors are not usually wont to permit the conquered to dictate the terms of peace, which is practically what is to be asked of them by the commission.

Constitutionalists are especially caustic in their comment on the proposal of the commission to "take up the agrarian question and propose some form of settlement. They declare that this is a purely internal problem and that they will tolerate no outside interference. Indeed, this is their attitude with regard to the entire mediation. They declare that if let alone they will settle the entire Mexican problem in a few months, and in proof of their ability to do this, point to what they have already accomplished in the way of driving the federalists from two-thirds of the area of the country with the imminent prospect of securing the other third in a great time.

Will Settle Land Question.

"They point also to what they have already done and are doing in settling the agrarian problem."

"When shown statements bearing inference that should the Niagara Falls plan fail, the negotiators would be forced to accept it, or be crushed, the Constitutionalists leaders ask how and by whom? They point out that the alleged object of the Niagara Falls conference was to promote peaceful settlement. With nearly two-thirds of Mexico in their control and now being restored to a basis of peace after four years of civil strife, the Constitutionalists leaders fail to see what peaceful measures could be brought to bear to constrain them to accept the plan. They assert that with an army of approximately 50,000 men in the field, the complete elimination of Huerta and his followers is a matter of not more than two months."

"Should any or all of the foreign negotiators, called to promote peace, to use force as a means of acceptance of their plan, the Constitutionalists feel it would present a situation so contradictory as to be ludicrous."

Laugh at Statement.

"The announcement that a basis had been secured for the solution of the agrarian question was received with laughter. The Constitutionalists do not acknowledge the right of the mediators to rule concerning this subject, especially as the stand of the Huerta party on the matter largely was responsible for the unrest in Mexico."

"The Constitutionalists assert that the foreign negotiators have not been able to settle this question in their

GARRISON EXPLAINS YPIRANGA INCIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Secretary Garrison made an official statement today of the status of the cases of the German ships Ypiranga and Bavaria, which landed munitions of war for Huerta at Puerto Mexico and were fined more than a million pesos by American officials at Vera Cruz.

General Funston reported the secretary's statement following the hearing of the cases and port officials fined the Hamburg-American liner Bavaria $118,000 pesos for having discharged a large portion of her cargo consigned to Vera Cruz, at another port before arriving at the port of Vera Cruz and for correcting her manifest after arrival in the port of Vera Cruz.

"The similar fine has been imposed upon the Ypiranga amounting to $34,350 pesos for failure to correct invoices accordingly and discharging her cargo at a port other than that to which she was consigned. General Funston states the officials in question had no option under the Mexican law and had to assess the fines in the sums named. No appeal has been taken on behalf of the vessels and the presumption is that if any further proceedings are to be had representations will be made to our state department."

Concerning Sanitary Conditions at Vera Cruz, Secretary Garrison today said:

"The United States army has completed one month's occupancy of Vera Cruz. There have been more than 1,000 soldiers and marines and not one death from disease has occurred within that period."

own countries, and yet they apparently take it upon themselves to settle so grave a matter for a country of whose local conditions they must be ignorant. The leaders explain the agrarian problem is one for local settlement and the only parties to the Niagara Falls plan who understand local conditions are men who hold radically opposite views to those of the great majority in Mexico.

Huerta a Criminal.

"The inference that Huerta might be allowed to become a candidate for president at a future election is regarded as a criminal by the Constitutionalists and that he should be a candidate for anything except the guillotine or the electric chair is not considered seriously by them."

General Villa's declaration, as given out today by the bureau of information at Juarez, said in part:

"I have been informed that our enemies, the men who belong to the party of treachery, are developing intrigues abroad, using my name and exalting my military merits, with the object of making me appear with an ambition which I do not possess, for the purpose of establishing divisions and disorders among the Constitutionalists. If victory was achieved by me, I have no doubt because of my own personal action but also for the courage, patriotism and discipline of my companions in arms."

Rebels Explain Attitude.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Constitutionalist representatives in Washington tonight issued their first formal statement since the Niagara Falls mediation conference began. Luis Cabrera, on behalf of himself and his colleagues, Rafael Zurbarán and José Vanasco, outlined the Constitutionalists' attitude toward the question of participation at Niagara Falls, maintaining that it is for the United States and not for the mediators or the representatives of General Huerta to decide whether representatives of the Constitutionalists could should take part in the deliberations.

"Should the Constitutionalists participate in the Niagara Falls conference, the statement said, 'is the question to be decided before any other point, this is to decide this question: Is it Huerta, or is it the mediators? Is it the United States?'"

"Certainly not Huerta. The mediators, as such, are not interested parties in the agreement to settle differences between the United States and Mexico. The chief function of the mediators is to limit his efforts to bringing the parties together, and any action having the effect of drawing them further apart is opposed to the very purposes of the mediation."

Only U. S. Can Decide.

"Should a conflict arise between England, which recognizes General Huerta, and Mexico, no one could question the propriety of England's dealing with Huerta. But in this case there is a conflict between Mexico and the United States. The United States has not recognized Huerta as the legal president of Mexico. Neither has it recognized the Constitutionalists as the legal rulers of the country. But for the purpose of settling the present international conflict, only the United States can decide if it is satisfied to deal only with Huerta or if it wants both factions to be represented in order to insure the success of the mediation."

"Should the mediators by themselves decide that the United States ought to deal with Huerta alone, they would leave the role of mediators and appoint themselves arbiters, not only of the international question, but of the internal domestic affairs of Mexico."

of the measures. Democratic leaders pressed the detailed debate and kept the house in session tonight without even allowing a recess for dinner. The holding companies section was taken up and a substitute proposed by Representative Volstead of Minnesota was defeated. Representative Volstead said the pending holding company provision would practically destroy the effectiveness of the Sherman antitrust law.

Senator Newlands, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, which has charge of the drafting of antitrust legislation, announced to the senate today that he expected to make this legislation the unfinished business before that body after it votes on the Panama tolls exemption repeal bill.

several hours after a heavy rain late yesterday afternoon. Many washouts have been reported, but the extent of the damage is not known.

Rain continued in the Pass practically all day yesterday. The Colorado Midland has a large gang ballasting track between Manitou and Green Mountain Falls and two bridges are reported to be weak. Midland trains were delayed five hours yesterday by a big washout at Arapahoe. Two hundred twenty-five feet of track were carried away.

Manitou Has Flood.

The rush of water down Fountain creek yesterday cut into the retaining wall in Soda Springs park. Manitou was washed away a part of Manitou avenue.

Heavy rains were experienced in Colorado Springs early yesterday morning and late in the afternoon. Little damage was done, however. Sunday night by the rush of flood water down the pass from Green Mountain Falls will not exceed $1,500, according to estimates made yesterday morning by County Commissioner Kennedy.

The washout on the Denver & Rio Grande between Butte and Wiggins was small, and the road was opened to traffic early yesterday morning.

The washout was the result of soft banks, the rounded not having hardened since the cloudburst and flood of a week ago.

Commissioners Kennedy and Banta made a trip of inspection over the Ute Pass highway yesterday morning.

"The approaches to all the bridges between Manitou and Green Mountain Falls were washed away and in several places the stone walls had caved in, allowing the roadbed to slide into the creek." Kennedy said yesterday afternoon. "However, the damage is not so great as was first estimated. We will have the road in first-class condition within a short time."

Due to Poor Seaman'ship.

BOSTON, June 1.—"It was not weakness in the construction of the Empress of Ireland or too few lifeboats—it was poor seaman'ship that caused the loss of nearly a thousand lives in the sea horror of last Friday," asserted Andrew Furuseth of San Francisco, president of the International Seamen's Union of America, which opened its annual convention tonight.

"Ever since the liability of the ship owner has been limited, releasing him from responsibility in case of mistakes of a crew, there has been less concern about the safety of passengers," Mr. Furuseth said.

"More than half of those who perished could have been saved if the crew had been efficient and organized for action in an emergency."

PEARSE CHILD WILL REMAIN WITH PARKS

DENVER, June 1.—Ethel Marian Pearse, aged 7, who has been the center of a two and a half year legal battle involving Mrs. Alice Broxholme, mother of the child, and Arthur L. Pearse, wealthy mining man, both of London, today was given into custody of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parks, wealthy ranchers of Rio Blanco county, Colorado.

In 1910 Mrs. Arthur L. Pearse, to whom it was said the child had been given by her mother, came to Colorado to visit her sister, Mrs. Parks. Her death left the child in the care of Mrs. Parks. Late in 1911 Pearse began legal action in Grand Junction to obtain custody of the child. District Judge Shaeffer ruling that the girl should remain with the Parks.

In April 1912, Mrs. Alice Broxholme appeared, declaring she was the real mother and instituting proceedings in the Grand Junction courts for possession of the child. The outcome today was the decision of the supreme court that the child should remain with the Parks by whom she was adopted.

The second step in the legal battle against the sinking of the Empress of Ireland will be taken tomorrow when statements for the owners of the Storstad will appear in the admiralty division of the exchequer court and offer a bond of $250,000 and ask that the collier be released from arrest. The $250,000 represents, according to the contention of counsel, the maximum liability of the Storstad for the damage according to the Canadian Pacific railway.

Chicago Banker Victim?

CHICAGO, June 1.—Michael Potocki, a private banker, who fled a week ago after closing his bank, is believed to have been among the victims of the Empress of Ireland disaster. The police today asked the police of Quebec, Canada, to seek to identify Potocki among the bodies recovered. Mrs. Potocki received a telegram from her husband from Montreal on May 27, saying he was going to board a steamer for Bremen.

Woman Goes Insane.

RIMOUSKI, June 1.—A woman, apparently a Swede, was found wandering naked today near Rimouski. It is believed she is a survivor of the wreck of the Empress of Ireland who made her way to land on a piece of wreckage and was driven insane by suffering. She was dazed and unable to give an account of herself.

Plays Ship Owners.

LONDON, June 2.—(Tuesday).—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Sydney, N. S. W., says that Premier Holman, in announcing a message of sympathy in the loss of the Empress of Ireland, made the following statement:

"I expect the inquiry will end in the condemnation of some unfortunate second mate or seaman. There will be no safety for the traveling public until the directors of the companies which send 1,300 people to sea in a ship capable of being destroyed in 15 minutes are put on trial as accessories to manslaughter. I hope the Canadian government will deal with the calamity in that spirit. The people who make money by gambling the human lives ought to be punished."

Professor Davidson Safe.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 1.—News of the safety of Gordon Davidson, instructor in history at the University of California, who was a passenger on the steamship Empress of Ireland, was received today by his brother, J. G. Davidson. Relatives of Davidson had believed he was among the dead.

A telegram from the survivors says he swam four miles to shore through the icy waters, with the assistance of a lifebelt.

HUERTA WILLING TO TURN OVER REINS OF GOVT. TO SUCCESSOR

MEXICO CITY, June 1.—President Huerta, with regard to the settlement to which the Niagara Falls peace conference is directing its efforts, according to persons close to him, has proposed that the elections for president, vice president, senators, deputies and state governors should be held on July 5, next, as decreed by congress. He is desirous that these elections should be free and legal, the Constitutionalists having the right to exercise supervision in those portions of the republic now controlled by the government and the government agents the same right to supervise the returns in those parts of the country now in the hands of the Constitutionalists.

Huerta, according to the same authority, has made solemn promises to hand over the executive power to the president thus elected. He objects to the appointment of a new provisional president because this would cause impairment of the national sovereignty. It is reported that Constitutionalists under Trinidad Alamillo, former governor of the state of Colima, have been routed by a victory by government troops, who killed many of them.

All of General Mas's command, including the rear guard under Orozco, have succeeded in reaching San Luis Potosi, where there are now more than 20,000 federal troops. The war minister does not fear an attack by the Constitutionalists on that town.

There were many rumors today regarding the reported departure from the capital of President Huerta, but they were unfounded, as the president visited his usual haunts both afternoon and evening.

HUERTA FAMILY IS LAVING COUNTRY?

Wife of President and Four Sons Reported to Have Sailed on Ypiranga

VERA CRUZ, June 1.—Coincident with the sailing of the Hamburg-American steamer Ypiranga from here today, rumors, originating in Mexico City and brought here by refugees, were circulated that Senora Huerta and her four sons were aboard the ship.

The Ypiranga cleared for Europe by way of Havana. As she left the harbor, the German cruiser Dresden unexpectedly hauled anchor and followed to sea. There was a report also, that the liner's destination was Puerto Mexico.

Neither Brigadier General Funston nor any other army or navy officer heard the rumor that some of the Huerta family were aboard the Ypiranga until after the steamer had sailed. There is no means to verify the report.

Mystery Unsolved.
A similar report was in circulation Saturday, but this time the officers and agents denied. There was an element of mystery, however, in eight locked staterooms, originally reserved for Dr. Urrutia, the former minister of the interior, which were not otherwise disposed of, although he had proceeded to the United States.

According to the reports in Mexico City, Senora Huerta and her sons went to Puerto Mexico several days ago on a special train escorted by palace guards. They boarded the Ypiranga here and remained in seclusion during the steamer's stay in this port.

Huerta Also Flees, Rumor.
General Funston said that this might be possible, as no attempt has been made to ascertain who was aboard the steamer. It was reported also from the capital that Senora Huerta drew 1,000,000 pesos from the bank.

Still another report from the capital had it that President Huerta himself had left for Puerto Mexico several days ago in a sleeping car with trainloads of the Twenty-ninth Infantry, ahead and behind.

Refugees declare that they passed a train of this nature this morning on the way from Mexico City and noted that more than 300 soldiers of the Twenty-ninth Infantry were aboard.

These reports are generally discredited here, but are viewed as showing a general belief in the capital that Huerta may secretly depart at any moment.

HISTORY OF CUTLER ACADEMY SIMILAR TO THAT OF COLLEGE; STUDENT TELLS OF PAST

Institution Named After Massachusetts Man; Ground Broken for Building in 1877

One of the interesting features of the class day exercises of Cutler academy yesterday was the history of the institution, prepared and read by Dwight Spencer, a member of the graduating class. Spencer obtained much of his material from Prof. F. H. Loud, who was connected with the academy and the college longer than any other person. The historical data follows:

By DWIGHT SPENCER.
Here, in a gathering such as will probably never be seen again in Cutler, it is only right that we should consider what the school has done. For indeed, it is an old one, as schools go in this western land, and has been started with the college itself.

In 1874, in the Wanless building, located where the National bank is now, the first sessions of Colorado college were held. There were three distinct courses of study. The "college course," which granted a degree; the was the only class building on the campus.

In the first college annual, which was published in 1890, we find a department with the dignified appellation of "The Normal High School," in that the boys of Cutler academy organized on June 15, 1887, a literary society to be called "Hesperian." Donald Gregg was the first president, and he may even yet have the honor of meeting the last president of that venerable society, our own Mr. Beverly Tucker. Debating seems to have been the chief interest around which Hesperian centered. In '98 they won a contest with Colorado Springs High school. Each year the scope of these contests widened, until, in 1902, they challenged the high school of Lincoln, Neb., but in this debate Hesperian went down to defeat.

"Philo," in the fall of '98, was organized as a literary society for the girls. The meetings were held once every two weeks, with programs in which the different members took part. The last of the girls (aside from refreshments) seems to have turned toward theatricals, for, in the year 1902, we hear of them giving two plays which were highly successful, and the annual plays of these later years have fully warranted the interest of Philo in dramatics.

For has Cutler lacked on the athletic side. At first, however, she was under great handicap because of the fact that the college made use of her best players. One of these, O. E. Lamson, who was in Cutler for three or four years, played on the college football team and afterwards at the University

PROF. M. C. GILE

"Cutler training course," which only granted a certificate, the preparatory and sub-preparatory courses. The professors at that time who taught Ovid and college mathematics also expounded the mysteries of reading, writing and arithmetic.

And there are here this afternoon two of those first pupils of 1874 who witness the graduation of this last class, the mothers of two of its members. In the two preparatory courses we are the essence of this present school.

Then there came in the college's career three years of struggle and sacrifice, during which the president, Mr. Edward E. Palmer, had to do nothing had it not been for a group of eastern men backing him up. Of these, Mr. Cutler, a large manufacturer of Framingham, Mass., was foremost. He had become interested in Colorado colleges as Mr. Tenney had been his former pastor. With money and influence he supported the president in his earnest endeavors to establish this institution. Indeed, if it had not been for Mr. Cutler, the college and school would probably never have existed, for it was not until his guarantee of support was given that Mr. Tenney would undertake the work. It is in the honor of this man that the building has been named.

At last, on the Fourth of July, 1877, a group of people were gathered about the spot over which we now are, and General Palmer broke the ground.

This building did not rise in a night, for we hear that not until four years later was it first occupied, with both of the wings coming in the next two years, and seven years after it was begun the stairway and the window casings of this hall were yet unfinished.

Now began a period which, if possible, was more of a strain upon those who had the establishment of the college and the preparatory school at heart. This led up to the crisis which was reached in 1888. For three years there had been no president, and no money was to be had. Truly it took a man of unusual foresight to see in that fall of '88 the college that we are now. But the new president, Dr. Bloom, did realize the great possibilities. It may not be generally known that he at this time also bore the title of principal of Cutler academy, and under him as assistant principal was Mr. George L. Hendrickson, now professor of Latin at Yale. Many will remember the Mr. Hendrickson's address last college commencement.

Named "Cutler" in 1899.

The name "Cutler academy" was not bestowed until the preparatory department until 1890, at which time this building, then known as Palmer hall,

MT. LASSEN IN CALIFORNIA IS IN ERUPTION AGAIN

standing in the deposits support these geological observations.

A latter and second period of eruption occurred about 75 years ago, but was of such a character as not to attract attention. The progress of the eruption in the Lassen district at Ramparts Hill, near the south base of the peak, indicates continued volcanic activity.

Of Recent Formation.
Geologically, Lassen peak, which is of volcanic origin, is a recent formation thrown up by volcanic action which began at the close of the Pliocene and continuing until the present time.

Lassen peak is the south terminus of the Cascade range of mountains. The Lassen peak volcanic ridge is formed by a belt of volcanic cones 25 miles wide and 50 miles long. Lassen peak is connected with Mount Shasta by lava deposits. Extending eastward over northern California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana is the largest lava field in the world. According to the information contained in a report of a geological survey made in 1894 by J. S. Diller, the lava fields cover an area of 200,000 square miles.

Cinder Cone crater, a short distance from Mount Lassen, has a pit 245 feet deep. There are represented in the Lassen volcanic district 27 geological formations.

of Pennsylvania, where he was an athlete even the highest mark of 40 boys were practicing for the inter-class football games. Two years later, at which time players in secondary were barred from college athletics, the Cutler baseball team was champion of the city league. And we hold it in fond memory that this league included Colorado Springs High school. The enrollment in the academy for that year was about 132.

The fall of 1902 saw the present "Palmer hall" having passed on from this to that much larger edifice. Then, for the first time, this bore the name of "Cutler academy." The next four years find Mr. Gile serving as principal for the second time. Too much cannot be said of his contribution to the school's success.

In the fall of 1907 Mr. Park was secured as head master, and in the following year the highest mark of attendance in the history of the school was reached, with an enrollment of 155. With the return of Mr. Gile in 1909 our school has come down to the present day under the leadership of these two men.

In the last 35 years it has directed over 1,100 pupils to a wider and more useful life.

It cannot but be regretted that a school with such a record as this must cease and drop down in the hearts of those who have given of their best to lift these young people to a higher plane of life, and drop down in the hearts of the students of this old academy, their going to be a spot that will be just a little empty when Cutler shall have passed away.

MRS. ANDERSON DECIDED TO DIE WITH HUSBAND ON COLLIER STORSTAD

MONTREAL, June 1.—Mrs. Anderson, wife of the captain of the Storstad, told her story today. She said the captain was called from his bed Thursday night by the mate because it was foggy. Her husband called her to come on deck, and while she was dressing the collision took place.

"I ran up to the bridge where Captain Anderson was," said Mrs. Anderson. "Everything was quiet and dark. There was no excitement among the crew, and it was as if I stood on the bridge and looked Captain Anderson. 'Are you going to stick?' 'I think so,' he answered. 'I couldn't cry, although I felt like I said to myself, my place is here, and I will die with my husband.' Captain Anderson told me he was trying to keep the Storstad in the fog and if the liner had not been speeding away, they would have swapped together for a time at least. My husband ordered me to get the officers to go to the bow and see if there was any water pouring in."

"Again I asked if we were going down, and he answered, 'I can't tell yet.' He said he thought the Empress was all right."

"I think it was five minutes later that I heard screams and cries, and I shouted to my husband, 'Oh, they are calling.' At first it seemed as if the cries were coming from shore. The captain gave orders to go in that direction and proceeded very slowly. Everywhere around me now I could hear screams. My husband gave orders to send out all the lifeboats, and that could not have been 10 minutes after the vessels had collided."

"I gave all I had to the passengers, and have only what I am standing up in. My husband gave two suits and other clothing away."

"The first woman to come on board was a Swedish army member, and only in her night dress. When she was brought into the cabin she ran to me and, putting her arms around my neck, said: 'God bless you, angel. If you had not been here we would have gone to the bottom.'"

After the rescued passengers were on board, Mrs. Anderson went among them with stimulants. All the cabins were packed with shivering survivors in scanty attire.

Trolley Talks, No. 23

Things to Remember

When we started publishing these "Trolley Talks" we told you that we would endeavor to explain every phase of the street car business in which the public is interested. We believe we have made good, but before concluding our talks we are going to review briefly for you some important facts concerning our business which we would like you to remember.

Here they are:

This street car company pays no dividends upon watered stock. The eighty thousand dollars which is paid annually in interest on its bonds, and the thirty thousand dollars which it pays in good business years in dividends upon its preferred stock, is a little less than five and a half per cent return upon the actual cash invested in the company.

Eighty-seven and a half per cent of the annual gross receipts of the company, or approximately $390,000 a year, is put right back into circulation in this town. This sum includes the wages paid to the employees, the bills paid to local merchants, taxes, dividends and the interest on the bonds, all of the latter being owned locally.

A double fare is charged on the Canon, Broadmoor and Manitou lines only because the extra income thus acquired is absolutely essential to the successful operation of the system. If a single fare were charged on those lines we would have to carry at least 3,000,000 more passengers a year just to make up for the loss in revenue, and to meet the $50,000 increase in operating expenses that the necessary increase in traffic would entail.

All profit from the operation of this street car system comes during the summer months. The remaining nine months of the year our cars are run at a loss, and that loss is increased by the fact that virtually all of the extra equipment needed during the tourist season has to be maintained in idleness from the middle of September to the middle of June.

We want you to remember the above facts because they tell a significant story, one that every fair-minded citizen can read and appreciate.

There are some facts concerning the physical side of our business which are also worth remembering:

Since Mr. Stratton bought those lines fourteen years ago they have been entirely rehabilitated. New lines have been built and extensions added to the old lines; miles of double-track have been laid; 42 modern double-truck cars have been added to the company's rolling stock; a brand new power house and a half a dozen big additions to the company's car barns and machine shops have been erected.

In a word, what was once jocularly referred to by Mr. Stratton himself as "a right of way and a streak of rust" has been developed into a street car system that is superior, both in point of service and equipment, to any other traction system now being operated in any city of this size in the country.

But we want to make it even better. You can help. We will tell you how in tomorrow's talk, which will be the final one of this series.

Tourist Season Comes In With June 1 Low Rates Start Crowds to the Region

June train rates, convention time, low railroad rates and tourists are all here. The good old summer time has arrived. From now on the wtd. will not be the only thing entering and the cash register will be the most overworked bit of machinery around the city.

While the tourist season officially opened yesterday, when the summer rates went into effect on all railroads, yet the season has been on for more than a week in Colorado Springs. A large number of tourists have been in this city the last few days, and hotels, restaurants and rooming houses have all felt the effects of the increased business.

The official travel rates are the same this year as last and are based on the agreement made by the Western Passenger Agents association fixing the charge at the rate of one and a half cents a mile with return tickets good for the same number of days from Kansas City and return is $13.50 on all lines.

All hotel men are looking forward to a good season this year, as good crops are reported in all eastern states from which this region draws most of its travel. The early arrivals indicate a season fully up to the average, and if anything a little better than usual.

Conventions Start.
The convention season has already started, as the state barbers held their annual meeting here yesterday. Thursday the life insurance agents will hold their convention, and a delegation of 100 delegates to the Graceland convention in California will stop off here and be entertained a half day.

Altogether, things are picking up, extra help is being employed in most of the stores, the street car conductor is exhorting his arms a bit more on the fare register card, the policemen are answering a few more questions, and the park benches are entirely minus dirt. The tourists are on their way and all is merry as a June wedding bell.

Tonight at 8:15 o'clock the 500 men and women that are to make up the big chorus will meet at the tabernacle for the first time, and will be met by A. P. According to press reports from New York, Boston, Baltimore and Huntington, W. Va., Billy Sunday is looking forward with eagerness to the major cities such as Philadelphia, and Chicago, and says: "Why should I preach in towns like Huntington and Colorado Springs?" The Wheeling, W. Va., Register says:

"His personal preference would be to cancel and leave Huntington now and not go to Colorado Springs at all."

"He says souls in Huntington are just as valuable as they are in Philadelphia, but that he spends just as much time and energy in preaching to 7,000 people here as he would in preaching to 15,000 in the Quaker City. Besides the fact that he reaches many thousands more through the press than he can while preaching in smaller cities."

Prisoners Overpower the Turnkey and Jailer; Escape, but Recaptured

PUEBLO, June 1.—Overpowering the turnkey and jailer, two prisoners in the county jail awaiting trial secured possession of the keys of the institution and made their escape this afternoon. In a little more than an hour afterward both men were back in the jail in solitary confinement.

Charles Grase, charged with an assault to murder committed on Max Newman, a pawnbroker of this city, was being led back to his cell by Turnkey William McClelland after receiving a visitor in the jailer's office, when McClelland undertook to lock the cell door he turned and attacked the turnkey. In the scuffle the prisoner got possession of the keys and going to the cell of F. M. Hoffman, freed him. Together they overpowered the jailer and then made their escape. They soon were recaptured.

POLITICAL PARTIES NECESSARY EVILS, SAYS MISS KELLOR

NEW YORK, June 1.—That political parties are a necessary evil whose activities must be endured at election time, but not further encouraged in the piping times of peace, represents fairly well the philosophy of the average citizen.

Whether "justice" and "partisan" are always to be terms of reproach, whether "politics" can ever mean anything more than the mechanics of party administration on a catch-as-catch-can basis, and "partisan" anything more than perpetual compromise with convictions for the sake of immediate power, this is the basis of discussion in the current number of the North American Review, by Frances A. Kellor.

The article makes no defense of party organization in its present and traditional implications. On the contrary, the need of baptism by fire is sharply pointed out. And it is pretty clearly indicated that the challenge which twentieth century public opinion is giving to the old party idea is no academic call to arms, but the expression of a fast culminating public conviction that party organization must indeed "awake, arise or be forever fallen."

What Public Demands.

The sense of the article seems to be that the general public, scanning its political parties more closely, has now come to the point of insisting that parties must show cause for the prerogatives they exact from those they represent, must in plain, Anglo-Saxon language, justify as well as getting.

A party platform, Miss Kellor points out, is not, after all, an incidental piece of literature, designed to grace a fleeting moment as a vaudeville or a Fourth of July eulogy. If it is anything at all, it is an embodiment of social and political ideals which its advocates believe to be practicable in the legislative scheme of the nation. But the most important plank of the platform is likely to involve trends, trends work in two directions—in the wise and solid and effective drafting of them into bills, and in the educating of the rank and file of voters to the thoroughgoing understanding of principles that must precede any real support.

Enormous Tasks.

These are enormous tasks. At present the only place where thorough and accurate research into difficult economic, social and industrial questions is made is in the universities. Miss Kellor makes a plea that parties set up their own laboratories for ascertaining facts and pursuing continuously, accurately and dispassionately the social research necessary to social legislation.

The second of these tasks, the educating of public opinion, has heretofore been left largely to various uncoordinated welfare organizations. Their efforts must necessarily be desultory, and their power actually, to all in having bills passed is sharply limited by the fact that any approach to lobbying jeopardizes their general standing with the public, the most valuable asset that they have. For the same skeptical man in the street that deplores the fact that regular politicians care little for social welfare, legislatively considered, cries out just as loudly against the appearance of the "unifier" in politics, and sets it down as a final argument that what Wells calls the "white dream of statecraft" exists nowhere on the earth.

In this recognized dilemma, Miss Kellor urges that parties permanently set up, along with their laboratories, their own dynamics for setting the current of public opinion.

Progressive Attitude.

The writer should know whereof she speaks. She is chairman of the Progressive National Service, formed by the Progressive party in place, every plank of its platform in charge of a committee of experts, who get together all possible data and make analyses of the subjects concerned. After the bills indicated in the platform have been drafted on this basis, the Progressive Service publishes them with the analyses, for the purpose of securing criticism, and distributing information to voters.

By this and other means, the Progressive Service in its connection with the Progressive party organization, illustrates the attempt to combine the traditional organization required by law with general educational service which is quite as active in the intervals between campaigns as at any other time.

MISSOURI PACIFIC GETS OUT OF FINANCIAL STRAITS

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Missouri Pacific railway was rescued from its difficulties at the eleventh hour today when it was officially announced that the plan to exchange $25,000,000 of three per cent. notes, expiring on this date, for a like amount of one-year 8 per cent. notes, had been declared "definitive." It is understood the estate of Jay Gould and Spayer & Co., the road's bankers, have agreed to purchase the $25,000,000 to $5,000,000 worth of notes of those who refused to grant an extension.

SULPHUR MINE STRIKERS DESTROY HALF OF TOWN

PALMERO, Sicily, June 1.—A strike at the sulphur mines reached a climax today when a mob at Porto Empedocle destroyed half the town. ## What the Press Agents Say

SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS

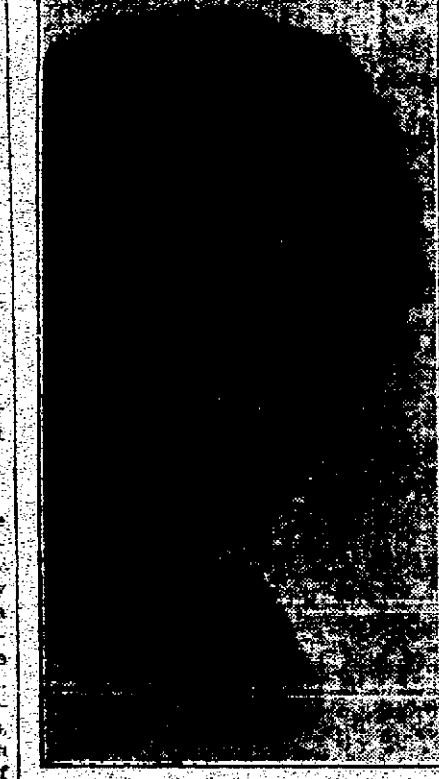

Paradoxically speaking, the brainiest men with the circus are those who are the most foolish. All of which is by the way of saying that one of the hardest jobs of the circus is that of being a clown. Of course, the natural idea is that all a clown must do to bring the laugh is just to "act funny." But it is in-acting funny that the brains are required. Hence, the reason that the 40 clowns form one of the chief items of expense in the heavy payroll of the Sells-Floto circus and Buffalo Bill which is to exhibit in this city June 18.

Once upon a time it was easy for a clown to be funny. He had his comic songs. He had his lines which could reach every part of the small tent in which the circus of the past held its performance. But that day has passed. The clown has no chance for words now, no chance for song or for jests. In the Sells-Floto circus this year, the great canvases cover 11 acres and seat 14,000 persons. Only a man with the voice of a steamship siren could talk to an assemblage like that.

Therefore the clown of today must be a pantomimist of extraordinary intelligence. He must make his every movement supply all that the voice could add. He must make of himself a living picture of the events of the day—for the old idea of a bismuth-smeared face and a ruff around the neck has passed as a standard of clowning.

day. This photo drama, in six parts is said to have created a sensation in New York city, where it has been playing to capacity houses for the last 20 weeks.

The plot of the production, in which more than 500 people are said to take part, is based on the reports of the Rockefeller investigating committee for the suppression of vice and District Attorney Whitman's white slavery report. It is said to show the actual workings of the vice trust and the "system," but in the whole treatment of the subject there is not one suggestive scene.

In New York city, the picture was shown to and received the endorsement of the committee of 14, which has the handling of these subjects. It was endorsed by the president of the Immigrant Home for Girls.

The moral lesson and the showing up of the work of the "system" is intended to be an aid to the uplift societies in their work to suppress the great evil.

Commencing at 1 p. m. the film will be shown continuously until 11 p. m.

BULLETIN ON COTTON

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The condition of the cotton crop of the country is the lowest since 1871, with the exception of 1903 and 1907, the department of agriculture announced today, issuing statistics showing the condition on May 31 as 74.3 per cent of a normal or 7 per cent below the 10-year average.

The low condition of the crop it was said was due largely to excessive rains and exceptionally cool nights in central and northeastern Texas, eastern and southern Oklahoma, and southwestern Arkansas, which brought the condition percentages in those states down to 65, 68 and 73 respectively.

The charting of the air currents is to be an independent undertaking.

Various aeronautical organizations and military, scientific and sporting authorities will be asked to cooperate in making a world chart for aviation.

UNSATISFACTORY BUSINESS CONDITIONS IMAGINARY

No Reason for Present Alleged Stagnation, Says President Wilson to Correspondents

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Wilson today again expressed his conviction that any present unsatisfactory condition in business was not general, but was less felt in the United States than any other part of the world. Mr. Wilson reiterated his view at the first conference he has had with the Washington correspondents since the Mexican situation became acute. Questions, however, on the subject of the Niagara Falls conference were raised.

In reply to inquiries concerning the business situation, as discussed in his statement last week to the representatives of the United States Manufacturers' association and other similar organizations, the president said it was his impression any unsatisfactory condition centered largely about the railway of-fices and was reflected in the steel industry and in other industries closely allied, which depend especially upon railway development for prosperity. The president referred to a statement by Chairman Gary of the United States Steel corporation that the general outlook in the steel business was good.

The president believes "prosperity would come with a jump if the many factories believed it was coming. He does not believe the tariff has anything to do with the depression.

Discussing the Clayton trust bill, the president said he did not understand the act was designed to grant to labor organizations any privileges they do not now enjoy. It is the purpose of the act, as he understands it, to define the rights of labor organizations more clearly and remove any doubt of their rights which has been created by various court decisions.

It is not the understanding of the president that labor organizations are to be given any privileges denied to other organizations.

GOV. HODGES OF KANSAS ON TRIAL FOR ALLEGED ASSAULT ON MRS. WEST

TOPEKA, Kan., June 1.—Mrs. Luella West of Wichita, Kan., took the stand today in the trial of her suit for $2,315 against George H. Hodges, governor of Kansas, for an alleged assault and battery in the governor's office, and told the story in which she bases her claim.

It was in regard to a parole for Frank Sullivan, a convict, that Mrs. West called on the governor, the day the alleged attack occurred, she said. She declared she did not know Sullivan previous to his conviction.

"I became interested in the young man because his mother was dead, and I didn't believe him guilty," Mrs. West said.

"Mrs. West called on Governor Hodges April 8, last, with copies of letters which had been given her by S. T. Stanton, the governor's executive clerk."

"I was accompanied to the governor's office that day by Mrs. Buckwalter," Mrs. West testified. "We went to ask a parole for Sullivan, whom we believed to be innocent."

"When we entered the governor's office, Adjutant General Martin was there with Governor Hodges. Mrs. Buckwalter had some letters in her hand. She stepped up and read them to the governor. They said: 'Where did you get those? They are private letters and none of your business.'"

"Mrs. Buckwalter had the letters in her hand and Governor Hodges seized them from her. She stepped back and said: 'They are just copies.' He replied: 'They are not yours. I picked up the letters.'"

"Then the governor caught hold of my hand and wrist. With one hand he held my wrist and with the other he held the papers and tried to take them from me. He wrenched and twisted from me and I threw up my hand and he struck me."

The case probably will go to the jury tomorrow.

DOUMERGUE CARRIAGE DECIDES TO RESIGN

PARIS, June 1.—The French cabinet, under the premiership of Gaston Doumergue, has decided to resign. The resolution was taken at a cabinet council today.

The cabinet will meet tomorrow to draft a statement explaining the reasons for its retirement. The chief factor in bringing about the resignation of the government is understood to be the uncertainty of its ability to control a majority in the chamber of deputies where some changes in the numerous groups were brought about by the recent general elections.

Differences are said to have arisen among members of the cabinet concerning financial measures and in regard to the three years' military service.

No indication whatever was obtainable today as to the probable composition of the new cabinet. It was thought that the present members might continue to hold office until after the meeting of the chamber of deputies and the selection of parliamentary officials. The chamber meets tomorrow, but the credentials of the members can scarcely be passed on before June 15.

WILSON REVIEWS DYNAMITE CASES

CHICAGO, June 1.—The date set for the 24 defendants in the dynamite cases to surrender themselves at the prison at Leavenworth, Mo., from the United States marshal here was today deferred from June 5, the date originally set to June 15. The change is due to the fact President Wilson needs more time to study the petitions for their pardon presented when the last court decision went against them.

A delegation of labor representatives headed by Representatives Gorman and Sabath of Illinois, presented to President Wilson today a petition signed by 1,000,000 laboring men, asking executive clemency for Frank M. Ryan, former president of the Structural Iron Workers and 29 others convicted in the dynamite conspiracy.

SENATE DELAYS ACTION ON N. Y. CENTRAL PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, June 1.—By a vote of 33 to 20 the senate today referred to the interstate commerce committee the Norris resolution asking the attorney general to state if the New York Central lines constitute a combination in violation of the Sherman antitrust law, and if he intends to proceed against it. The effect of sending the Norris resolution to the interstate commerce committee is to delay action. Senator Norris objected to that course. Other senators, some of them Democratic leaders, objected to calling upon the attorney general to disclose his intentions in a matter which might be the subject of litigation.

PUEBLOAN RELEASED FROM MEXICAN PRISON

PUEBLO, June 1.—That Theodore Jones, the Puebloan held in prison at Tepic, Mexico, for shooting a Mexican in self-defense, was released upon the capture of that city by the Constitutional forces, freed and sent aboard a United States warship and that he is now on his way to this country, was the information in a telegram received today by Mrs. T. R. Jones, the young man's mother.

The information comes from a relative in El Paso who states that news of Jones' release was received direct from General Obregon.

TRAPSHOOTERS DEFY RAIN TO SMASH TARGETS; HIGH SCORES TURNED IN FOR PRELIMINARY

Special Events Open Today; Ammunition Secured for Meet by Cong. Seldomridge; Many Marksmen Here for Event

By CAPT. A. H. HARDY
Preliminary to the regular program of the Rocky Mountain Interstate Sportsmen's association's fourth annual trap shooting tournament which starts this morning at 9 o'clock at Broadmoor park, a 100-target, 16-yard rise, practice event was participated in yesterday by 39 shooters from all parts of the United States.

Although cloudy skies and occasional gusts of wind and rain during the afternoon made the shooting unpleasant at times, some phenomenal scores were made. As predicted, R. A. King, the lawyer (scatter gun) artist led the field, breaking 98 out of a possible 100. Guy Cooper, the well-known traveling salesman from Kansas City, was runner up with 96, Charles Gunning of Longmont 94 and Burt Meritt of Denver 93.

By breaking 80 straight, Cooper won a medal offered by the Hercules Powder company for scores of 50 straight or more.

Capt. A. H. Hardy, with a score of 94, led the professionals, followed close by H. C. Keefe with 91 and D. W. King, 90.

The feature of the afternoon's program was a special 25-target handicap event for a hand-carved gun case made by A. H. Hardy and valued at $50. Mr. P. C. Thede of El Paso, Tex., was the only man to break 25 straight, which won the case. Tied for second money were H. C. Keefe, Denver, August Sander, Port Collins, Burt Meritt, Denver, Joe Rohrer, Colorado Springs, and Tyler Rogers of Laramie, Wyo. In the "shoot off" miss and out, Sander won the big cash purse after running 21 straight.

Professionals for the several ammunition and gun companies feel especially indebted to Mr. Garrett, for it was through his untiring efforts that they were able to ship ammunition from Denver over the Rock Island railroad.

Owing to the embargo against the shipment of arms and ammunition in or out of Colorado, it looked for some time that the present tri-state shoot would have to be postponed. Much pressure was brought to bear on Congressman Seldomridge from Colorado, and finally a permit to ship trap loads only into the state was granted.

W. S. Godfrey of Cripple Creek, representing the Hercules company, arrived yesterday afternoon to participate in the tournament. Godfrey has not competed in a shoot for 25 years, but his company ordered him to the Colorado Springs tourney on the strength of past performances.

'RESOLUE' AND 'VANITIE' IN TRIAL TESTS TODAY
First Competitive Races for Honor to Represent United States in Race With Lipton's Shamrock IV

PERFECT PITCHING RECORD MADE
LONG STRIKES OUT 27 STRAIGHT

NEW YORK, June 1.—The first competitive test of the sailing abilities of two of the centerboard sloops built for the defense of the America's cup will occur in the race tomorrow on Long Island sound between the Resolute and Vanitie.

CINCINNATI, June 1.—Bob Long, idol of the fans attending the California State league games several years ago, yesterday achieved the greatest pitching feat possible in baseball. The old leaguer hurled a no-run, no-hit game, just 27 men facing him in nine innings, and each man who stepped up to the plate walked right back to the bench after making three ineffectual attempts to connect with the ball safely. Old Bob whiffed 27 batters.

GIRL SCULPTOR WHO MODELS IN A SUBWAY TICKET BOOTH
In the "Interesting People" department of the American Magazine appears a picture and sketch of Bessie Paetz, a young Russian Jewess who is learning sculpture under tremendous difficulties.

for the Drake of Sarawak—Rajah Brooke's remarkable little statue in north Borneo—to cap the climax by stripping many miles of telegraph poles of their wire in order to turn the latter over to their tribal "modistes" to manufacture into "clothes" for their ladies. Long before the telegraph wire came, the principal article of trade with the Drakes of Borneo was brass wire, some of which was used for the making of bracelets and anklets, but the bulk was worked up into a remarkable corset for the women folk.

KANSAS CITY, June 1.—The Chicago Federals pounded the local pitchers in the third and fourth innings and won from Kansas City, 10 to 2, today. McGuire held the locals to five scattered hits.

Each member of the art class to which Miss Paetz belongs is expected to make an original bit of modeling very now and then. Nothing is more characteristic of the enthusiasm and seriousness with which Bessie Paetz takes her work than the fact that she turns in an original sculpture nearly every day. She makes almost all of these in the "underground studio," but she never works on them except when traffic is dull for Miss Paetz does not allow art to interfere with duty. A proof of her conscientious application to business may be found in her assignment to the Park Street station, for this is perhaps the most exacting and hurried station in the Boston system.

PITTSBURG, June 1.—Buffalo defeated Pittsburgh, 2 to 1, today. Pittsburgh's tally was a homerun by Manager Gakes.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—St. Louis lost 4 to 1 to Indianapolis in the eighth inning today when the visitors scored one run and broke a tie.

From the Wide World Magazine.
The telegraph, pioneer of electrical invention in all new countries, has had many remarkable experiences in linking up the outposts of civilization, and nowhere more than in the still half-savage islands of "Alayala" in Australia. For instance, the rebellious Achineer took the wires to him, or into slugs for their mussels; in Celebes, unprotected lengths of the early lines were torn down and provided into fish traps; while in Dutch Borneo the white porcelain insulators gave such a striking effect as necklace beads for the dusky jungle belles that the natives still call them whenever opportunity offers. But it was not

The reason why the Scotch tunes have lived so long and will probably live forever is merely this, that they are really compositions of melody and harmony united, or rather that their melody is harmony. I mean the simple tunes sung by a single voice.

GRAND JURY TAKES UP I. W. W. CASES

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 1.—A grand jury today took up the cases of the 12 Industrial Workers of the World demonstrators who were jailed Saturday night after they emphasized their belief in the right of free speech by a protest in the streets of Tarrytown against the course taken by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., gutting the Colorado strike. In charging the jury, Justice Arthur G. Tompkins said the constitutional right of free speech did not give professional agitators, who were unwilling to work, the right to incite people on the street to violate the law and create disorder. "If such agitators wish to talk," he said, "they must hire a hall. No one has a right to speak in the street without such a permit as the local authorities require."

TEXAS TOWN'S PATRIOTS WILL TANGO

From the New York World: BEAUMONT—Beaumont will celebrate with a "Tango Fourth." The chamber of commerce is arranging the details and will expend a goodly sum of money to make the tango a success. Broadway will be roped off and bands will be stationed along the street the night of July 4, and young and old will be allowed to tango to their heart's content, all night long if they desire. Of course there will be fireworks, but this biggest of tango teas will be the first of its kind.
